

Terms and conditions:

1. You are courteous and aged 18 or over, with an open heart and an open mind. Anyone under 18 must have an adult present at all times.
2. You must secure an appointment time before paying for your session
3. All information and advice given within a private session with me is intended for guidance only. You are reminded at all times that the ultimate decision and choice belongs to you.
4. You are solely responsible for your own self, life-path and the fulfilment of your life's purpose. The accuracy or effectiveness of any services cannot be guaranteed. Session fees are non-refundable.
5. Services are not intended or recommended as substitutes for any legal, medical, psychiatric or other professional assistance.
6. And whilst I'm happy to offer any help I can, this is not intended as any substitute or replacement for any legal, medical, financial or other such advice that you may need to take.

7. Full session charge is applied for all sessions cancelled within 24 hours of the appointment time.
8. If you should phone late or arrive late, the time may be deducted from your appointment as there is a schedule and other people to consider, and refunds cannot be made.
9. Session packages are non-refundable, but can be transfer to a family member or friend.
10. Indra Silar is unable to answer questions that relate to your life outside of a consultation. This does not include general business queries.
11. All payment deposits are non refundable unless a genuine medical emergency can be proved.
12. You are encouraged always to seek professional medical advice if you suffer from any medical illness. Our sessions do not replace or negate medical opinions given to you by a professional doctor.
13. Every article, blog, image and writings on this website are copyrighted and may not be reproduced electronically or otherwise in any form without the express written permission of the owners.
